DETAILED ACTION

1. The amendment filed October 16, 2006 is entered and claims 1-19 are pending.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1 to 19 are allowed.
3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the claimed invention is directed to a method of driving a display device.

Independent claims 1-5 identify a uniquely distinct feature "applying one of the pair of video signals to an odd signal line of the signal lines of a pixel region in accordance with a signal from a first shift register included in the source driver circuit and applying the other of the pair of video signals to an even signal line of the signal lines of the pixel region in accordance with a signal from a second shift register included in the source driver circuit".

Independent claim 8 identifies a uniquely distinct feature "applying the first video signal to an odd signal line of the signal lines of a pixel region in accordance with a signal from a first shift register included in the source driver circuit and applying the second video signal to an even signal line of the signal lines of the pixel region in accordance with a signal from a second shift register included in the source driver circuit, wherein the first video signal has a reversal relationship with the second video signal.

Independent claim 11 identifies a uniquely distinct feature “a control circuit for controlling drive of the liquid crystal panel and the signal processing circuit, wherein the signal processing circuit is connected to the liquid crystal panel through a plurality of video signal lines, and includes D/A conversion circuits connected to the plurality of video signal lines, the number of D/A conversion circuits being equal to the number of video signal lines”.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Sasaki (6,049,321) and Karube et al. (6,072,456).

The closest arts, Sasaki, Karube et al., Ohi, and Lee as discussed above and in the previous Office action, either singularly or in combination, fail to anticipate or render obvious the above limitations obvious.

4. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled “Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance.”
